The various and reported assays and the result by analysis proves that there is every indication of a large and valuable deposit of gold. WEDNESDAY, OCT. 13, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Joseph Lema, an old Frenchman, committed suicide yesterday at Nevada City. Cause: Intemperance.

The suit Dr. Platter against the New-Examiner for libel was dismissed yesterday. The doctor's own testimony proving him more of a quack than the paper had charged.

The steamer City of Panama, aground yesterday in the harbor of Victoria, was got off without damage.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors declined to vote aid to the Emigrant Aid Bureau.

The new Secretary of the Interior has been appointed, but his name is not given.

The celebrated Dr. Helmholtz, lately confined on a charge of insanity, has been discharged.

Senator Alcorn explains the Mississippi difficulty and shows that the colored Sheriff, Brown, incited the negroes against the whites, even going so far as to furnish them with ammunition.

Riggs and Rain, two Americans, fought a duel in Paris yesterday with swords. Rain was wounded.

It is reported that the British and French governments are in communication relative to steps to be taken in view of the recent edict in regard to the Turkish debt.

The Carlist General, Sabado, goes to Switzerland. Spain intends to demand his surrender as a robber.

Italy will appoint a Commission of Italians resident in America to the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia. The Pope will send two Monks, representing the Madonna, by Raphael, and Saint Agnes, by Gentile.

A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that the Turks have seized a quantity of gunpowder sent to Crete by the Greek revolutionary commission.

President McMahon and Lord Lyons met the Prince of Wales at Paris on his way to India.

A commercial crisis is reported at Rio Janeiro. A currency issue is expected to meet the emergency.

A grand reunion of war veterans is in progress in New York.

Hon. Dimick, Attorney-General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, died at Harrisburg yesterday.

Gold closed in New York yesterday at 115 1/2.

Two County Superintendents—CRAWFORD of San Joaquin, and LYNCH of Alameda—are contesting the election of their opponents. It so happens that both these gentlemen are members of the State Board of Education. If they are beaten in the contest they lose their seats in the State Board.

REPUBLICAN journals are laboring hard to create an impression that politics does not enter into the judicial election. Their object is to defeat FITZGERALD the Democratic nominee for Superintendent of public instruction and elect CARR the Republican nominee for the same office. They are handling a two edged sword. If there is no politics in this election why do the Republicans nominate candidates for the offices? They ought to leave the places vacant and let opponents nominate themselves independent of party conventions. The fact that they have not done this proves the hollowness of their professions. They cry "no politics" and urge everybody to vote for their party nominee.

THE impression prevails with a number of citizens that the Board of Education of our city is not sufficiently economical in the disbursement of the school money. We are not prepared to answer questions on this point submitted by a correspondent, but we are sure the Board will promptly answer all interrogations pertinent to the issue. We believe that men and women who have sufficient education and possess the other qualifications requisite for good teachers, are deserving of fair remuneration for their services and we believe that in a city growing as rapidly as Los Angeles money spent in school houses and other educational facilities is wisely expended. Still there is a limit beyond which the managers of our school department cannot advance without oppressing the tax payers. The Board of Education is an able and competent body, and will, we have no doubt, give all necessary information as to its receipts and expenditures.

Senseless Jealousy.

The Northern counties are incensed at the neglect of that section of the State by the immigrants this season. The wonderful progress made by Los Angeles and the other Southern counties is fully set before the world by the election figures. Our envious sisters claim that extensive advertising has accomplished this result, and it is proposed to organize an association and lay the claims of the Northern section before the new comers by means of pamphlets, circulars, &c. distributed on the trains. While it cannot be denied that the rapid increase in our population is in a measure due to the dissemination of correct information concerning the climate and resources, it is manifest advertising alone could not build up any section. The new comers find on arrival that this county is superior to any other portion of California, and so settle in our midst. Nor is this all, they are so well satisfied with their homes that they write for their friends and relatives to come on and enjoy the advantages which nature has lavished upon semi-tropical California. We can therefore stand the abuse which our Northern cotemporaries are pleased to lavish. It turns the attention of the new comers in this direction, and if they begin to inquire closely about us it is a moral certainty they will soon be living among us.

The Supreme Court.

Philosopher PICKETT has favored us with an autograph letter accompanied by several articles from his pen originally printed in the Sacramento Bee in which he inveighs against the Supreme Court, discusses the right of certain justices to sit upon the Supreme bench and recommends the people to elect their successors. In the outset it may be well to say that the Philosopher has a grievance. He suffered at the hands of the Supreme Court an indignity which should make the Judges blush, but still there may be much good sense in his arguments in favor of electing successors to justices NILES and CROCKETT. It is unnecessary to repeat the many reasons urged why the seats now occupied by these Judges should be filled by other gentlemen. The single one that their term of office is about to expire by statutory limitation is sufficient for saying that no harm can come of voting for two Judges of the Supreme Court at the judicial election. The fact that the Governor has not in his proclamation given notice that such officers are to be elected, makes no legal difference, as the rights of the people cannot be annulled by the non-action of a public officer. This is, if we remember correctly, the first biennial election in which the Governor has omitted such proclamation. The Bee properly remarks: "Of course it is a Constitutional question as to whether the people are entitled to elect one or more Justices of their Court now, and the only proper way to decide the issue is to elect them and try it on. It will not cost more and tickets to put two more names upon upon them. No harm can come from such action, and much good may."

Grant's Religious Plank.

President GRANT in his Des Moines speech after having declared his desires for a third term devoted the rest of the time to the elucidation of what he regarded as a new tenet in American politics. He pronounced against the combination of church and State or the interference of government in affairs of religion in any manner. Inasmuch as religious liberty has never been threatened in this country, and besides being guaranteed by the constitution, has been a standing plank in almost every platform of every party since the formation of the government, the President's position would have been regarded as very weak had he not preceded it by predicting in the near future a religious war in this country. It was necessary to conjure up an enemy to give significance to his waving sword. Without the prospect of a religious war his religious plank would have had no significance. "We are to have another contest in the near future of our political existence," he said. "I predict a dividing line not to be Mason and Dixon's, but between patriotism, ambition and ignorance." Then he added "Let us all labor for security, free thought, speech and press; pure, moral, unfettered religious sentiments and equal rights and privileges for all, irrespective of nationality, color or religion; encourage free schools, resolve nothing appropriated for them be applied to support sectarian schools; resolve that neither State nor nation shall support institutions save those where every child may get a common school education, unmixing with atheistic, pagan or sectarian teachings; leave religion to the family altar; keep church and State forever separate. With these safeguards I believe the battle which created the Army of the Tennessee have not been fought in vain."

This is unmistakably an effort to drag religion into the political arena, and inflame the rancor of bigotry and sectarian zeal, that purely political parties may be disrupted and the GRANT party profit by the dissensions.

General Grant is the first Presidential candidate who has sought to make capital out of religious fanaticism, and encourage sectarian hatred by directing men's attention to imaginary dangers in the future. He arouses all sects by picturing the supposed aggressions of their opponents. He seeks to divide the people into numerous parties by calling their attention to the dissimilarity in their creeds: Considering the time opportune, owing the bitterness of religious feeling in Europe, to excite the fears of the weak and the ambition of the strong. He perhaps considers his prediction like the ancient oracle will work its own fulfillment; that the Catholics will be aroused to the danger of the situation, and inaugurate a campaign for self protection, and that the Protestants, feeling their strength with attempt to imitate the Prussian government; and that both Protestant and Catholic once aroused will war against the infidel and the Jew. His declaration of the maintenance of religious freedom was worthy of the chief magistrate of the nation; his attempt to embitter sectarian feeling is unworthy of a true lover of his country. But the artifice will react upon this calumniator of the people of the United States. Posterity will place GRANT's vision of futurity alongside of that of Don Quixote when the heated imagination of the old knight transformed a flock of sheep peacefully pasturing upon the plain, into two contending hosts of mailed warriors.

California Dried Fruit.

We clip the following from the San Francisco Bulletin of the 8th:

A citizen of this State, largely interested in fruit raising, who has recently returned from New York, says that the inquiry for California dried fruit is on the increase.

The New York fruit market is a very large one. It can produce ten times as much dried fruit at good price as California will be able to produce. But fruit growers here must study the market.

Moreover, dealers in New York want some assurance that when they sell a lot of California dried fruit, and find that the same places their customers, or the lots of the same quality can be furnished in a steady way to supply the demand created.

Unless that can be done the trade would be injured, and would be quite unsatisfactory. If for instance, a New York dealer were to send an invoice of California raisins, he wants to know that he can keep right on selling the same.

And so of dried peaches and plums. If he sells to-day a brand of Malaga raisins, he knows that he can stake his store to-morrow with another lot, with any other kind of dried fruit which is well known in the market.

Now these considerations are of great importance to California fruit-growers. A few old lots put up in various packages and never made much impression on the market. The dried fruit of California is not sold until the demand for certain sorts would be without limit, if care is taken to put them into market in such packages as are provided by the trade.

A fruit grower this year could have had 50 acres of Bartlett pears in full bearing, he could not have had more of a better thing. He could have shipped all his pears and sold them at a profit, which could be secured at small cost and little trouble, would have brought very large prices in the Eastern markets. These pears would have been sold in the fruit-growers may hereafter find profitable ventures.

Here is a timely hint to the fruit-raisers of this county. The fruits of this coast are infinitely superior to any raised on the Atlantic side of the Continent. Any of our inferior grapes are superior to the best they have.

We have repeatedly urged our farmers to cure their fruits and vegetables, assuring them that there would be a good demand for them at prices that would pay, yet they suffer their grapes and other fruits and vegetables to decay on the ground, because no one comes to their doors to buy them. In no other country in the world would the farmers submit to such a waste.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

"Medium" Deduces his Position—Plenty of Currency but it is Locked up—Gold Speculators the Base of the People—A Remedy Suggested.

EDITOR HERALD: It is true we did not state emphatically in our former article on this subject which way we would "gravitate" provided Congress should take measures to bring our currency up to the value of gold. Our position was simply this: that if Congress rescinded the act by which currency is refused for port dues, currency would then be equal to gold.

THIS ACT Alone would add 15 per cent. to the value of the currency now in circulation, which would ostensibly be adding 15 per cent. to our circulating medium. That we have the greatest abundance of currency now in existence for all commercial purposes there can be no doubt, if it were in circulation. But it is not in circulation.

CAPITALISTS Are holding it for the purpose of speculating in gold. Gold is now 16 1/2 premium, and the holders of currency have laid their money away until gold shall fall. Many who hold millions of currency do nothing but speculate in buying and selling gold. All this currency is now locked up, and will not come out until gold falls. But there are thousands of men with a few thousand dollars in currency who never thought of buying gold, and who have also laid their money away, because they are not willing to "stand the shave," as they call it. Neither are they willing now to invest in any branch of trade, because all articles of commerce rise and fall as gold rises and falls.

So if they were to invest in any branch of trade they would be compelled to submit to the discount on their money just the same as if they were buying gold. Hence they prefer to wait until their money will bring a better price. This is the principal cause of a scarcity of money at the present time, and so long as the brokers of Wall street can keep up the price of gold, so long will it continue to be scarce. But as soon as currency shall become equal to the price of gold, all these old vaults and hiding places will be empty, and money will be plenty everywhere. Property will rise, labor will be in demand, and a general state of prosperity and improvement will occur in all parts of the country.

THEN TAXES Can be collected and the Government debt rapidly paid off. We are no inflationist. We have plenty of currency now, but it is not in circulation for the reasons above named. But as under judicious management the taxes collected would rapidly absorb the currency, we would have enough released to supply the demand of commerce. So long as the country is in debt the Government should manage to keep money as plenty as possible, so as to enable the people to meet the demands of the tax collector. But as soon as we are out of debt it does not matter whether we have much or little money. If we owe nobody we shall never be troubled with a crisis. But one thing all our law-makers must keep in view: the property-holders and laboring people must pay the Government debt, and they must have THE MEANS TO DO IT WITH.

Of course we are in favor of making gold and silver the only legal tender. It has always been so in this country until recently, and it was an egregious blunder in our Government even to have changed it. But this will make no difference with the currency. When people find it equal to gold there will be very little trouble to produce gold for all demands that may be made. It is not the fear that the nation will not redeem its currency that depreciates its value.

NO SENSIBLE MAN Has ever dreamed for a moment that the American Government would not redeem all its pledges. And there never was a greater scandal perpetrated upon any government than is now being done by editors and politicians who are babbling all over the land about "rag money and an irredeemable currency." It is a slander upon the nation and a disgrace to themselves. This depreciation is caused by the tricks of gold gamblers, aided by the wise Congress which refused to take our currency for port dues. This is all there is in it: a matter of a few millions of dollars, and will redeem all its pledges.

Ohio Goes Republican. Probably. CINCINNATI, October 12th.—Murat Halstead, editor of the Commercial, in an interview early this evening on the prospects of the election, says that in his opinion the election of Hayes is beyond the possibility of a doubt, and that Hamilton county will go Republican. The Germans voted pretty solidly for Hayes.

The Ohio Election. WASHINGTON, October 13th.—The excitement, which has been high all day over the elections, rose to fever heat as night set in. Every point where news could be expected was thronged with eager crowds, anxious to hear the very latest from Ohio. A number of prominent officials gathered at the Washington office of the Cincinnati Gazette to hear the dispatches read by Gen. Boynton from the home office, and the headquarters of the various Democratic clubs were kept open and had a good attendance. During the first part of the night bet's which during the day were to be had on either side even were taken and large sums were staked. By 10 o'clock betting fell off, with ten to six on Hayes and but few takers, and by midnight became solely a question of San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 12th.—The $3,000,000 in currency which arrived by the overland train yesterday evening in charge of Maj. G. W. Randall was sent to replace about the same amount of mutilated currency which has accumulated in the hands of Wm. Sherman, U. S. Treasurer in this city.

About noon to-day a terrible accident happened at Latham's new building, corner of Sutter and Kearney streets. It appeared that one W. J. Rogers, a machinist, who boards at the Coso House, being desirous of inspecting the building, ascended to the second story, the floor of which is not laid, and while walking across the joists missed his footing and fell to the floor below, a distance of 16 feet. He alighted on his head, producing a severe scalp wound and probably concussion of the brain. He was picked up in an insensible condition and carried to the City Prison hospital, where Dr. Stovers took him in charge. Rogers was under the influence of liquor. He may, with the proverbial good luck of drunken men, recover from a blow which would have killed a sober man.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Grangers' Bank was held for 1 o'clock to-day at the rooms of the bank on California street. At that hour the stockholders began to pour into the place until it was crowded to suffocation. There were over two hundred and fifty grangers, male and female, in attendance and very soon the meeting was adjourned in the result of the election which is being held this afternoon for directors of the bank. There are five tickets in the field, and the most of the scratching is being done by the sisters, who are beginning to realize the pleasures of casting ballots. Mr. J. V. Webster called the body to order, and after making a few brief remarks as to the object for which it had been called, said it would be necessary for the transaction of business to adjourn to 2 o'clock to-day.

That an adjournment should be taken to Dashaway Hall, but it was announced that that place was being used by another organization. It was finally decided to adjourn to Corinthian Hall, where the polls were opened.

The Chinese cigar manufacturers of this city have a society organization which is far stronger than any other similar trade union among the whites. Having learned the value of strikes when they desire to accomplish any object, they do not hesitate to apply their remedy.

Yesterday workmen in several of the large cigar factories owned by white men quit work because they were unwilling to submit to some new regulations which were sought to be introduced. The employers effected a compromise through the aid of interpreters and the Chinese resumed work this morning, having gained the object in view.

W. Miller, claiming to be John Jeffries, went to the Clay Street Bank and demanded $300, the amount on deposit in the name of Jeffries. Miller produced a bank book and insisted on paying the money to him. He was turned over to an officer; and this morning in the Police Court was on trial for grand larceny, but the evidence not justifying the graver charge it was reduced to one of petty larceny. It seems that the real Jeffries was drunk on Thursday and the book was taken from his pocket. Miller made several contradictory statements to the arresting officer, and his story when on the stand was still different. He was found guilty as charged and ordered to appear for sentence.

The Primary Investigation. VALLEJO, Cal., October 12th.—The Naval Court of Inquiry has received the testimony of ten witnesses, the evidence being chiefly an examination of the books and papers of Spaulding's office. Important facts have been elicited but no startling disclosures made. It transpires that Kenny plundered in company with others. Spaulding listens to the testimony but has submitted no report to the Court. His bookkeepers have been undergoing an examination since last Friday. Carr, Hansome, Lagrange and De la Mont have not yet been summoned. The Court is confident that it has the power to enforce the summons by the U. S. Marshal. When Carr is wanted he will be sent for. If he fails to respond a Deputy Marshal will bring him. The contractors will be called next. The inquiry will not be concluded before November 10th.

We hope the L. A. & I. R. R. authorities will give a little excursion to Santa Monica next Sunday morning, to meet the passengers of the steamer Senator. As this is to be the informal inauguration of the road to Santa Monica we suggest the propriety of an excursion to the City by the Sea. Many of our citizens would like to go down and would willingly pay fare for a trip by the first train to the new landing place.

Messrs. Starbuck & Butler, the enterprising real estate dealers, are to have a comfortable room in the new bank building. This firm have made a host of friends by their system of honest trading, and we are glad to note their prosperity. In this case honesty has been its own reward in improved business and increasing reputation. In the new office Messrs. Starbuck & Butler will be able to receive their business handsomely.

Grape Crushing.

The season of wine making has fairly commenced, and the whirl of the crushers is heard in the land. Grapes are unusually plenty and wine making is dull, so the price rules low, most of the wine makers buying at three bits a hundred.

Prominent among the grape crushers is Don Mateo Keller, on Alameda street, near Aliso, who has forty pickers engaged and six teams running constantly, loaded with the product of his own vineyards. Five men feed the steam crusher, and it takes in all about twenty-five additional men to take care of the juice. The daily product of his crushing is 6,000 gallons of juice, and this amount he expects soon to increase. Next week he will buy grapes from other vineyards, and keep ten teams at work steadily, with a helping force of 100 men additional. The total product of Mr. Keller's season is estimated at 500,000 gallons.

Mr. Bernard, at the old stand of the Los Angeles Associates, is also busy crushing. He expects to barrel about 300,000 gallons of wine, and is reputed to be a careful and experienced wine maker.

Mr. Pelanconi, whose establishment is also on Alameda street, crushes grapes by the primitive method, viz: tramping them out. This establishment is not dependent on the fluctuations of a steam engine, is not subject to the weakness of machinery, is not liable to the annoyance of a boiler explosion, but is as perpetual as human muscle, the nearest power to perpetual motion that man will ever use. About a score of neat, clean-limbed, stout-muscled Indians do the heavy work and seem to enjoy it. Just imagine the delight to these living grape crushers as they stamp out the luscious fruit of the vine. They seem to love it, and as the butcher delights to see the fresh hot blood spurting from the throat of the slaughtered animal, so these muscular grape crushers seem to revel in the ruby fluid which runs from the tramping floor. These grape tramps seem to be as stolid as Indians usually are, and the steps on the crushing floor, the bare feet, and legs, with pants rolled up above the knees. At first the movement of these crushing pedals is slow and monotonous, but as the operator sees the grape juice slowly flowing under his descending feet, he becomes more excited and he soon tramps with frantic energy, the blood red juice dripping from every toe and perspiration running from every pore. His physical exertion seen at a Louisiana Voodoo meeting, or a colored camp meeting, as a brother or sister comes through the wilderness. This is the kind of exertion which we observed in our visit to Pelanconi's establishment day before yesterday. About twenty Indians, with bare feet, and three whitemen, with boots on, stood in a square tray and trod out the grapes with wild energy, accompanying the work with hoarse shouts, and shrill yells. When the exhausted appearance of the operations showed that the crushing was well done, the perspiring tramps rested, and the skins were picked out. The pulp and stems were then shoveled into a smaller tray where three bare-footed operators mashed them to a fine jelly. This mode of making wine is not objected to by some of our thoughtful readers, but the most scientific writers say that by it the temperature of the human body raises the temperature of the wine and fermentation takes place more quickly and more thoroughly. This is the process, so we are informed, used in Italy, Spain and France from which countries we get most of our high-priced wines. It is also believed that this was the process followed by Noah when he made wine and brought the curse on Ham. Wine was made in Palestine by the method of tramping, and we have no doubt that it is of the Scriptural wine went through the process of tramping by human feet. We see no reason why this wine should not take preference over the common machine-made wine and are pleased to learn that Mr. Pelanconi's wine has always taken a high rank in the market. Having seen this process, the simplest in the world, we desire to endorse it. The tramps are all picked men and take great pride in their work. It may be supposed at first thought, and delicate Miss McFlimsey may elevate her reticent nose at the idea of drinking the oily Angelica, the generous Claret, or the fragrant Madeira made at Pelanconi's, but we can assure her that as the best of our red may wine, and the best of bones, so the wines with the finest bouquet may be the product of grapes crushed by the pedal extremities of muscular copper-colored aborigines.

A STERLING OLD POEM.

Who shall judge a man from his manners? Who shall know him by his dress? Paupers may be fit for princes, Princes fit for common folks. Crumpled shirt and dirty jacket May beclothe the golden ore. Satest thought and truest feelings—Satin best can do no more.

There the streams of crystal nectar Ever flowing out of stone; There are purple beds and golden, Hidden, crushed and overthrown, Go, who counts by souls, not dresses, Loves and prospers you will find, While he values thrives the highest But as pebbles in the sea.

Man praised above his fellows, Oft forgets his fellows then; Masters—rulers—lords, remember, That your meanest hands are men! Men of labor, men of feeling, Men of thought and men of fame, Clashing equal rights to sunshine In a man's ennobling name.

There are foam-embroidered oceans, There are hills of blue and blue, There are feeble inch high saplings, There are cedars on the hills. Of whom by the way, remember, Loves and prospers you will find; For to him all vain distinctions Are as pebbles in the sea.

Tolling bells alone as builders Of a nation's wealth and fame, Titled laziness is pensioned, While the true, unmythical, By the sweat of other's forehead, Living only to rejoice.

Not a man's outraged freedom Vainly lifts his feeble voice. Truth and justice are eternal, Born with love and light; Sweet wrongs shall never prosper While there is a sunny right. God, whose world-wide voice is singing Link oppression with its foe, But as pebbles in the sea.

BY THE PITTSBURG, FORT WAYNE AND CHICAGO AND PENNSYLVANIA RAILWAYS.

3 THROUGH TRAINS DAILY, with Pullman Palace Cars through to Philadelphia and New York on each train.

1 THROUGH TRAIN, with Pullman Palace Cars to Baltimore and Washington.

BY BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD:

2 THROUGH TRAINS DAILY, with Pullman Palace Cars for Newark, Zanesville, Wheeling, Washington and Baltimore without change.

This is the SHORTEST, BEST and only line running Pullman Palace Cars, connecting with Union Pacific Railroad at OMAHA and from the WEST, via Grand Junction, Marshall, Central, Clinton, Sterling and Dixon, for CHICAGO AND THE EAST.

This popular route is unsurpassed for Speed, Comfort and Safety. The smooth, well-balanced and perfect track of steel rails, the celebrated Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars, the perfect Telegraph System of moving trains, the regularity with which they run, the admirable arrangement for running through cars to Chicago from all points West, secure passengers all the comfort in modern railway traveling. No changes of cars and no tedious delays at ferries.

TASTELESS MEDICINES.

A PROMINENT NEW YORK PHYSICIAN

late complained to Dundas Dick & Co. about the Sandalwood Oil Capsules, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but at other times they did them without effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold, he inquired and found his patient had not been taking Dundas Dick & Co's.

What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and Dundas Dick & Co. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and preventing the sale of cheap imitations in their capsules than in any other form.

OIL OF SANDALWOOD is fast superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules ONLY being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other remedy can this result be had.

DUNDAS DICK & CO'S SOFT CAPSULES solve a problem, long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing pills, and are well known to defeat from, if not destroy, the good effects of many valuable remedies.

TASTELESS MEDICINES—Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and safely in DUNDAS DICK & CO'S SOFT CAPSULES. NO TASTE. NO SMELL.

These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.
